Conservancy camps pay leases to Maasai landowners, and those leases keep grazing land from being https://masaimarasafaripackages.net/from-nairobi/ subdivided. That is the conservation model behind places such as Naboisho and Olare Motorogi.

Rates usually include a conservancy fee, which appears as a separate line on your invoice.

Ask how the camp employs local staff and whether guiding training is part of the operation. Cheap camps outside the system do not carry those costs. Responsible options are at %LINK%.
