3. Chance: The gamer starts the round. The game's algorithm produces a random multiplier outcome.
4. Determine the Outcome:
    - Win: If the generated outcome is equal to or higher than the target multiplier, the gamer wins. Their payment is calculated by increasing the bet quantity by the target multiplier.
    - Loss: If the produced outcome falls listed below the target multiplier, the player loses their wager.

Feature Crypto Limbo Crash Games Gamer Action Target is set before the round begins. Gamer views a multiplier increase and should by hand cash out throughout the round. Speed Instantaneous result per round. Brief period (seconds) where timing determines success. Decision Point Fixed decision before the roll. The Mathematics Behind Limbo: Multipliers and Win Chances

In Limbo, there is a direct mathematical relationship between the target multiplier you pick and your likelihood of winning. As the target multiplier increases, the opportunity of striking it decreases. Alternatively, low multipliers offer a high probability of winning, but smaller payments.

The majority of Limbo video games run with a House Edge (normally around 1% to 2%), which makes sure the casino preserves a long-lasting analytical advantage.

To better envision how the target multiplier effects your gameplay, think about the following theoretical breakdown (presuming a standard 1% home edge):

Target Multiplier Win Probability (%) Example Payout on a 1-GBPT Bet £ 1.01 x £ ~ 98.02% 1.01 GBPT £ 2.00 x £ ~ 49.50% 2.00 GBPT £ 5.00 x £ ~ 19.80% 5.00 GBPT £ 10.00 x £ ~ 9.90% 10.00 GBPT £ 50.00 x £ ~ 1.98% 50.00 GBPT £ 100.00 x £ ~ 0.99% 100.00 GBPT £ 1,000.00 x £ ~ 0.099% 1,000.00 GBPT

As seen in the table, while intending for a £ 1,000 x £ multiplier is thrilling, it takes place less than as soon as every thousand rounds typically.
