1. The Setup: Players pool their resources by picking a particular set of cases to open. The total expense of the cases figures out the buy-in for the battle.
2. The Drop: Both gamers open the precise very same cases simultaneously round by round.
3. The Victory Condition: At the end of the battle, the overall worth of all skins dropped for each gamer is calculated. The gamer with the greatest cumulative skin worth wins the entire contents of the drops for all individuals.

Depending upon the platform and lobby settings, variations like "Deathmatch" (most affordable value wins) or 1v1v1v1 free-for-all can modify the standard dynamic.

Not all case battles are produced equivalent. The variety of opponents and the structure of the lobby dramatically change the mathematical possibility of winning.

- 1v1 Battles: These use a baseline 50% theoretical win rate. They are the most foreseeable and enable players to manage their variation.
- Free-For-All (FFA)/ Multi-player Battles: Adding more gamers decreases the individual win rate considerably. While the payout is huge if one wins a 4-player battle, the odds of success drop to approximately 25%. Beginners should guide clear of large lobbies.

The kinds of cases chosen for a battle determine the volatility of the video game. Gamers can select in between high-risk/high-reward setups or consistent, low-variance setups.

Severe High-rollers seeking enormous prizes. Low-Volatility Cheap, high-volume cases with a constant circulation of restricted/classified skins. High Strategic gamers trying to stabilize the chances of striking a rare drop.
