What are Mystery Mines Games?

Gamers exist with a grid (usually 3x3, 5x5, or custom sizes) concealed under tiles. Some tiles consist of "gems" or "rewards," while others conceal "mines" or "bombs."

The goal is simple: expose as many gems as possible to increase your multiplier before hitting a mine. If a mine is uncovered, the round ends, and the player loses their wager.

2. Transparency: Most modern-day Mines games are provably fair, meaning gamers can validate the randomness of every round through blockchain hash innovation.
3. Volatility Customization: Players can frequently select the number of mines on the board, permitting them to shift the game from low-risk/low-reward to high-risk/high-reward.

Core Game Mechanics

To comprehend Mystery Mines, one must take a look at how the mathematics of the game moves based upon the variety of mines placed on the grid.

Common Mechanics Table

Grid Size	No. of Mines	Risk Level	Multiplier	Potential
5x5	1	Really Low	Slow, stable growth	5x5 3
5x5	3	Low/Medium	Well balanced	5x5 10
5x5	10	High	Quick growth	5x5 24
5x5	24	Extreme	"Jackpot" prospective

Note: The math works by reducing the likelihood of choosing a "safe" tile with every mine added to the grid.
